Dear Leader:

This letter has answers to some of the most frequently asked questions about starting a new 4-H club. If you are a new leader in an ongoing club, you will find this information useful, too.

How big should our club be?

4-H clubs can have as few as five members or as many as the leaders feel can be effectively included in the group. This decision depends on the number of volunteers involved in the club and how they share the leadership. Some suggest that six to 10 members per adult leader is an optimum number. Dedicated teen leaders may also increase the number of members a club can support. The size of the club will also depend upon what the club will be doing and where the meetings will be held. Limit your first group to a number with which you and the other leaders feel comfortable.

How do I recruit 4-H members?

It is seldom hard to recruit members. If there are exciting things happening in the club, the word will get out. Start with your own children, other children you know and their friends. You can contact your local schools or churches for potential members. Your local University of Missouri Extension center may have the names of children who want to join a club in your area. The county staff also may have a recruitment program or other ideas for recruiting new club members.

How to recruit other 4-H leaders?

It is helpful to recruit some other adults to help with club leadership. Parents of 4-H members should be willing to help. Other possibilities include senior citizens, 4-H alumni, friends, local experts or people with a special area of interest they can teach. Adults working with young people must be recognized 4-H volunteers.

This process starts with completion of LG636, Missouri Volunteer Application Form, and includes background checks for criminal records and child abuse and neglect, as well as completion of a 2½-hour volunteer orientation. Check with your local MU Extension center for more detailed information.

Where will our club meet?

Where your club meets will probably be determined by the size of your club. It may be easiest for the club to meet at various members' homes. Many clubs rotate meetings from one member's home to another; each family then has an opportunity to host a meeting. Other meeting places could be accessible public school buildings, churches, fairgrounds, community rooms, etc. Many community groups and other organizations are willing to allow their facilities to be used for 4-H activities. Facilities used for 4-H activities should be barrier-free.

How often will our club meet?

The decision on how often your club meets should be determined by the needs and composition of the club and its members. Although a
How do I enroll my group as an official 4-H club?

Your local MU Extension office has the necessary enrollment forms. Official enrollment is necessary for participation in any 4-H activity and for you to have the rights and protection of a 4-H volunteer.

The 4-H year begins each fall on Sept. 1 and runs through Aug. 31. All continuing 4-H members must re-enroll every year. Members may join 4-H at any time during the year, but clubs may have deadlines for enrollments that apply to participation in specific activities. It is beneficial to both the club and its members to enroll early in the year to gain the most from the 4-H experience.

What about project materials?

Your local MU Extension center will have copies of Y603, 4-H Clover for each family, and may have a local 4-H project listing. If you have not received your copy of the 4-H Clover, please ask for one.

Club organizational materials are available in print and/or electronic form. Order publications using the order form in MU Extension publications, Y603, 4-H Clover; or order online at http://extension.missouri.edu/publications/order.aspx.

Are there dues for 4-H members?

4-H members pay state dues. There are no national organization dues. Many counties also charge a fee. Some clubs may decide to pay for the cost of supplies and activities by assessing a small fee per member, while others may fund their needs by working together on a fundraising project.

If the club chooses to hold a fundraising project, be sure to check with your MU Extension unit staff about fundraising guidelines and policies in your area. Also, they may have information as to the kinds of activities that have been successful fundraisers in the past.

What about insurance?

Liability coverage is provided by the University of Missouri for officially-enrolled adult volunteers who are conducting authorized 4-H/MU Extension activities. This insurance has been purchased on an excess basis; that is, coverage applies after all other available insurance has been exhausted. This is liability insurance; it provides coverage for you in cases of negligence claims against you.

Automobile liability insurance is also provided by the University of Missouri on an excess basis for all recognized volunteers while participating in scheduled and supervised 4-H/MU Extension activities. All volunteers are expected to comply with state law, have valid driver’s licenses and maintain personal liability insurance at levels that meet or exceed the Missouri Financial Responsibility limits for owners/operators. This insurance is liability coverage and does not provide coverage for damage to the adult volunteer’s vehicle.

This coverage does not substitute for health and accident insurance. Special Activities Insurance Coverage for accident and illness can be purchased for 4-H youth, their volunteer leaders and adults participating in supervised activities. This insurance covers illness and accidental injury while participating in 4-H activities on an annual or individual event basis. Your local MU Extension staff can provide information and applications.

If you have other questions or concerns, we’d love to help you!

Character is important

Missouri 4-H recognizes the importance of good character in everything that is done. 4-H staff and volunteers as well as 4-H members and their families know that a person of character

- is a good person, someone to look...
up to and admire;
• knows the difference between right and wrong and always tries to do what is right;
• sets a good example;
• makes the world a better place to live; and
• lives according to the Six Pillars of Character — Trustworthiness, Respect, Responsibility, Fairness, Caring and Citizenship. CHARACTER COUNTS! and the Six Pillars of Character are service marks of the CHARACTER COUNTS! Coalition, a project of the Josephson Institute of Ethics. http://www.charactercounts.org.

Other helpful resources:
Volunteers…the foundation of youth development, 4-H Project Leader Audio Tape: http://4h.missouri.edu/resources/
LG782, Ages and Stages of 4-H Youth Development
LG783, Learning by Doing
LG784, 4-H Project Leader Find these and other helpful resources online: http://4h.missouri.edu/resources/materials/category.htm#project.