

MU Youth Development Academy

Course for Credit Information

Summer Semester 2017 (Class Meets During Intersession – May 15-19, 2017)
University of Missouri-St. Louis (UMSL Campus)

The University of Missouri Youth Development Academy (YDA) course provides youth development professionals with knowledge, skills, and competencies to lead high-quality youth development programs.

MU students (juniors, seniors, or graduate students) pursuing a career as afterschool or school-age care program leaders, youth-serving organization leaders, camp directors or youth group leaders, K-12 or community educators, government agency leaders or policymakers whose decisions affect children and youth will benefit from this three-hour undergraduate or graduate seminar.

The five-day Academy includes ages and stages of youth development, experiential learning, program planning, enhancing diversity, youth/adult partnerships, engaging volunteers, managing risk, community partnerships, creating environments for youth relationships, and putting it all together.

YDA is offered as a for-credit course to on campus and distance students, students enrolled at other higher education institutions and a non-credit course for youth development professionals. Course sponsors are:

- MU Extension 4-H Center for Youth Development
- UM-St. Louis School of Social Work
- MU College of Education – Department of Educational, School and Counseling Psychology
- MU College of Agriculture – Department of Agricultural Education and Leadership
- Mizzou Online
- UMSL Online

The course is taught by a team of MU Extension faculty who lead youth development programs on campus and in urban and rural settings throughout Missouri. YDA is a weeklong training, with class sessions held daily, May 15-19, 2017, and final paper(s) due during the Summer 2017 semester.

How do I take the course for non-credit? (CEUs, Clock Hours)

Students and professionals who choose to receive non-credit credentials toward their careers attend YDA for a $499.00 registration fee. Non-credit participants receive:

- Daily lunches, books, course binder and materials, and optional evening activities
- Certificate for 3.5 Continuing Education Units (add $10), or
- Certificate for 35 School-Age Care Clock Hours

For more info and to select this option, see YDA registration or follow step-by-step on page 4.

How do I take the course for credit? (3 Credit Hours)

Students and professionals who choose to earn 3 semester hours of undergraduate/graduate credit can enroll in YDA as a general elective course at current tuition/fee rates for UM-St. Louis or University of Missouri. (UMSL students - $199.00 program fee will be added to student billing, plus instructional fees. MU students - $499.00 program fee will be added to student billing. For-credit students receive:

- Daily lunches, books, course binder and materials, educational supplies, optional evening activities, and certificate of completion.
- Coursework, including daily readings and assignments, May 15-19, and a reflection paper due after the Academy. Graduate students turn in a final paper by end of semester.
- Grade and course credit at the end of the semester.

For employees of the University of Missouri, the educational assistance policy applies toward course tuition and fees.

Great Plains students may enroll in YDA as a general elective outside their program of study. Since the course is not offered as a Great Plains course, Great Plains financial aid does not apply.

Hotel Lodging (Optional)

Students and professionals can make their own commuting and/or lodging arrangements for attending YDA. Participants seeking hotel accommodation, see UMSL and St. Louis Airport Area Hotels. No special conference rates or blocks of rooms apply; ask for nonprofit/agency hotel rate if applicable).
